

Think about Theatre

You saw the HTY show The Royal School. Maybe you've seen other HTY plays, too. Now, what have you discovered about theater?

What do actors do with their bodies and voices to help tell a story?

How do the technical elements help tell a story? (Lights, Costumes, Props, Setting)

How do costumes help the actors play their characters?

How does the design of the set help the audience better know the story?

What is the role of an audience when watching a play?

How is your role as audience different when you are viewing movies, television, or live theatre?

How does a play help us understand our world better?
